NIXON OPENS CAMPAIGN IN INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon hit the peace and prosperity theme hard today in his 1956 campaign kickoff speech here launching a 32-state political swing.

Nixon came to the Hoosier capital as the first stop on a long hard tour in the interests of the Eisenhower-Nixon Republican ticket in the November election.

In a speech prepared for delivery on Monument Circle before a lunch-hour crowd, Nixon urged voters to listen to both Democratic and Republican orators and then "consider whether this administration has been good for you."

Nixon said "we Republicans have something far better to offer the American people than personal abuse of our opponents." But he said, "where our opponents misrepresent and distort the record and where they vilify the President of the United States I shall... set the record straight."

Nixon said the Republicans had brought peace and prosperity to the American people and restored honesty, integrity and decency to government.

He said the Eisenhower administration got the country out of one war, kept it out of others and offers the best hope for peace without surrender in the years ahead.

He said Democrats "say we have no peace, that our prestige is at an all-time low." But, he added, "it is not surprising that those who defend an administration which refused to admit that the war in Korea was a war, might not know the difference between war and peace."

Nixon said "the New Deal, Fair Deal planners were never able to find the secret to the problem of creating prosperity during peacetime."

FEENEY PROMOTED

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Promotions effective on Sunday elevated C. Charles F. Lynam, Linton, to detective sergeant in and Trooper Joseph J. Rumley was charged with cashing a worthless $5 check at Hedge's Market in August.

PUTNAMVILLE IS HOST FOR POLICE SHOOT

CRACK TEAMS TO COMPETE FOR TROPHIES DURING
2-DAY EVENT

Crack state police teams from Missouri and Virginia will attempt to win permanent possession of the Governor's and Pennsylvania Railroad trophies at the 10th annual Indiana State Police pistol matches at Putnamville Wednesday and Thursday. Virginia can retire both prizes and Missouri the Governor's trophy.

A total of 109 shooters, representing seven state and 10 city police teams, and two independent squads, will toe the line for the first match at 8:30 a. m. DST Wednesday.

Strong resistance to the Missouri and Virginia invasion is expected. Among the top competitors will be Inspector Harry Reeves, captain of the Detroit Police Department squad and five-time winner of the national pistol championship.

"The invitational tourney was started to stimulate interest in police fire arms training," said Frank A. Jessup, superintendent of the host organization. The record list of entries will tax the Indiana department's outdoor range to capacity.

Competing will be state police teams from Michigan, Missouri, Ohio, Kentucky, Virginia, Illinois and Indiana. Cities sending squads are Detroit, Evansville, Pittsburgh, Louisville, St. Louis, Fort Wayne, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, South Bend and Chicago. The Pennsylvania Railroad and the enforcement section of the Indiana Alcoholic Beverage Commission also have entered teams.

A sterling silver plaque, entered by J. Don McLean and Sam Rariden, of Greencastle, as the Indiana State Farm trophy, is a new prize which will go to the 38 caliber team aggregate winner. Other awards up for grabs, besides the Governor's and Pennsylvania cups, are the Indiana State Police Board and Superintendent's trophies.

Three other men were arrested in their homes by agents Monday and arraigned. They were Henry M. Cargano, 24; Paul Gonzales, 37, and James J. Adamson, 22.

Hostetter said Adamson had no part in the actual holdup, but that the stolen money was counted in his home several days later. The money has not yet been recovered, and none of the men has admitted a part in the crime, Hostetter said.

It was charged that Beluca and Gonzales were the two men who entered the bank. Agents said they wore straw hats, bandannas and overalls.

4 DANGEROUS MEN CAUGHT AFTER ESCAPE

WESTVILLE, Ind. (UP)—Four "dangerous" convicts who escaped from a state prison mental hospital by brandishing butcher knives, were back in custody today within 24 hours after they fled.

Three were caught together shortly before midnight. The fourth was found hiding in brush near the same spot shortly after 8 a. m.

Captured were the apparent leader of the gang, Charles Needoff, 41, a Gary native imprisoned on a 10-25 year sentence for armed robbery. Others were John Clark, 29, Mishawaka; Gerald Jessup, 17, Indianapolis, and William Thompson, 38, Muncie.

Thompson and Clark originally were imprisoned for short terms on intoxication charges but authorities said they drew additional 1-5 year sentences for escaping from a state prison farm. Jessup had been sent to prison on a civil commitment.

Richard Cmiel, 22, driver of the milk truck in which they escaped, told authorities he entered the hospital's maximum security area and ran into Needoff, who was carrying a butcher knife.

Cmiel was forced by Needoff and his companions into the refrigeration rooms along with two attendants and nine patients. Then the four inmates, officials said, forced other attendants to open electronically-operated doors so they could flee.

The 12 persons trapped in the refrigeration compartments were released after they had pounded on the doors for about 35 minutes. None was harmed.

The hospital where the escape occurred is new and was set up to care for deranged inmates of the state prison at Michigan City.

Sign Not Quite Accurate Lately

STURGIS, Ky. (UP)—A sign just outside this small western Kentucky coal mining community reads, "you are always in Sturgis—the friendly city of the South."

The sign has not been 100 per cent accurate during the past two weeks. Sturgis and the neighboring mining community of Clay have been racked by dissension and near-riot because of attempts to racially integrate their schools.

These events brought armed troops and tanks of the Kentucky National Guard to Garrison school grounds in Sturgis and at Clay; made life long neighbors suspicious of one another, and the state government, and placed both communities in an unaccustomed and unwanted glare of world-wide publicity.

Neal, former DePauw mentor, will relate the most humorous experience they encountered over the years in the games between the two colleges at the dinner meeting of the Quarterback Club on Wednesday evening, Sept. 19th, 6:30 p. m., at the Student Union.

The program arranged for this meeting of the QB Club promises to be one of the most interesting. In addition to humorous talks by Vaughan and Neal, Bob Hicks DePauw football coach, will introduce his staff, and discuss the prospects for the DePauw team this season.

Bob Stebbins, former assistant football coach at DePauw, will be here from Indiana University, where he is on the publicity staff, and will project some interesting movies on football highlights of Big Ten games.

Reservations can be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce.

Warmer Weather Moves Eastward

A warning trend was expected to push through the Great Lakes region today while a slight warming trend continued in the Northeast.

A noticeable drop in temperatures during the last 24 hours covered the eastern half of the nation from Minnesota southward through Kansas and eastward to the Atlantic Coast.

Greatest change was in the area from Illinois through Ohio, where the mercury early today was in the 40s, a drop of about 26 degrees over the past 24 hours.

Meanwhile, the warming trend expected in the Great Lakes area was moving across the western half of the country. Temperatures ranged west of the Mississippi River in the 50s in the northern tier of states to the mid 90s in the desert Southwest. Exceptions were found in mountain areas where, for example, Fraser, Colo., reported a 28-degree reading.

Precipitation has been light and was reported in northern California, along the Great Lakes and the Atlantic Coast states. Heavier precipitation was forecast in the form of thunderstorms activity from Texas eastward to Georgia. Otherwise, it was to be fair in most sections.

BIG 3 AGREE ON ASSOCIATION OF CANAL USERS

DULLES DISCUSSES CRISIS
WITH BRITISH, FRENCH
MINISTERS

LONDON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles arrived here today and immediately plunged into discussions with the British and French foreign ministers on the growing animosity toward their plan for a Suez Canal users association.

The Western Big Three agreed today to go ahead with formation of a "canal users association" despite Egypt's refusal to cooperate.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, who arrived six minutes after Dulles, told newsmen he believes Wednesday's conference of 18 nations "will lead to a creation of an association of canal users" despite the unexpectedly critical reaction from the Big Three's allies.

Pineau mentioned the possibility of taking the problem to the United Nations but said this would depend on Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser who already has rejected the plan and branded it an "association for war."

"Either he will receive the association of canal users or prevent their ships going through the canal," Pineau said. His statement bore out reports the West was anxious to challenge Nasser by sending a test ship to the canal for passage.

The plan calls for setting up an association with its own pilots which would collect fees for passage through the canal. Pineau said he thought a "certain number" of the European pilots who resigned would return to work for the canal users association.

Should Egypt refuse passage, the association would be expected to lay the case before the U. N. Security Council, charging Egypt with violating the 1888 treaty guaranteeing free passage of ships of all nations.

Dulles, Pineau and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd planned a full day of conferences before presenting the plan to the 18-nation meeting already at least 7 of the nations were expressing hostility or doubt at the users plan.

Adlai Assailed By Joe Martin

WASHINGTON (UP)—House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Mass., has accused Adlai E. Stevenson of trying to raise a "phony issue" over the Joe Smith incident.

As chairman of the Republican Convention in San Francisco Martin squelched an attempt by Terry Carpenter, a Nebraska delegate, to nominate the unknown Joe Smith for vice president.

Carpenter said later he was trying to show that the Republicans were running an "open" convention.

Martin told reporters Monday that he had no regrets about "convening Joe Smith out of the convention hall." He said he was sure his handling of the incident would not cost the GOP the votes of any Smiths named Joe.

"The Republican Joe Smiths will vote Republican and the Democratic Joe Smiths will vote Democratic," he said.

MR. EISENHOWER URGES LEADERS TO TELL TRUTH

LET DEMOCRATS "DO THE YELLING" IKE ADVISES
REPUBLICANS

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today urged Republican leaders to go to the people with the "truth" during the 1956 campaign and let the Democrats "do the yelling."

Mr. Eisenhower spoke at a breakfast at National Airport at a kickoff for the campaign tour of Vice President Richard M. Nixon. About 250 Republican leaders were present for the ham-and-eggs breakfast which also marked the departure of five other Republican campaign teams.

Mr. Eisenhower spoke after GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall had introduced members of a Republican "truth squad," which will tour the country.

"I see no reason for going to the public with anything but the truth," Mr. Eisenhower said.

He said the GOP does not need to claim perfection for the administration.

Where there have been failures, Mr. Eisenhower said, they were "because of circumstances often beyond our control."

For example, he said, while world peace may not yet be secure, thousands of American mothers are thankful that their sons are not fighting.

The President said the economic situation is good although there may be trouble spots. As for the farmers, he said, they have been taken out of a system which failed to work and have been given hope of getting their fair share of the national income.

Speaking after Mr. Eisenhower, Nixon said GOP campaigners should "look at the record."

"We don't have to whitewash it with clever quips or fancy phrases," Nixon said. "Plain talk will do the job."

"The American people under the Eisenhower administration have had the best four years of their lives."

Brands Democrat Charge "Absurd"

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson today attacked as "absurd" Democratic platform charge that the Eisenhower administration destroyed the Soil Conservation Service (SCS).

Benson said the SCS budget, including funds for watershed development, is 46 per cent higher than before the GOP took office and the service's technical staff working with farmers "is at an all time high."

The GOP farm chief, in an address prepared for the third national watershed congress said the conservation charge was part of a Democratic farm platform which "as a whole offered nothing new."

Benson again defended the administration's flexible price support policy and assailed the Democratic program for high, rigid farm prices. Rigid supports lead to lost markets, surpluses, low prices and rigid controls, he said.

TODAY'S BIBLE THOUGHT

And Judas . . . when he saw that he was condemned repented himself and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders . . . and went and hanged himself.—Matt. 27:3-5. After Christ rose from the dead Peter returned to preaching. Christ forgave Judas but humanity never has. We should forgive as we want our sins forgiven.

Across The Counter

Frequently, when we meet friends on the street, we are greeted by the familiar salutation: "What's new?" Because we respect social convention, our usual answer involves small talk and pleasantries.

A factual answer, as related to our business, would be: "What isn't?" For, during the past two or three years, practically every type of insurance coverage has been changed.

Many of these are major new developments, such as the Homeowners Comprehensive Dwelling policy (combining many old policies and adding several new features). Other types of insurance have been broadened considerably in coverage—automobile, personal theft, mercantile block, personal articles, to mention a few.

The net effect is that most forms of insurance offer broader provisions than ever before, some at no increase in cost, and consequently, are "better buys."

Because of all these new developments, however, it is more important than ever to seek the counsel of a professional insurance agency regardless of the kind of coverage you have in mind. Feel free to stop by our office anytime. We'll be glad to tell you "What's new". And also help you get the "most protection" for your insurance dollars.

FAIRLY SPOKEN

November Election Day Is Vital Date For All

By Margaret Latrobe

How far ahead do you make dates? Would seven weeks seem too far ahead to commit yourself?

One important date falls on the first Tuesday in November. The sixth. Think you might make it?

We are all of us people, with two types of interests—the intimate ones of family and friends we love, and the wider interests we feel as citizens of the country we love. We break dates, duck responsibilities, withhold affection, disavow, or betray either type of interest at our peril.

About 60 per cent of us who are qualified to vote do so. Why?

Not a Dream

DRINKING a glass of orange juice for breakfast the morning after being named Miss America of 1957, blonde, 19-year-old Marian Ann McKnight of Manning, S. C., realizes her victory in Atlantic City is not just a dream. She is five feet, five inches tall, weighs 120 pounds and is 55-23-35. (International)

Outrides 'Smear'

VICTORIOUS over what he termed a "smear campaign," New York Attorney General Jacob K. Javits mounts the rostrum in Albany to make his acceptance speech after unanimously winning the Republican nomination to run against New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner for the U. S. Senate. Claims had been made that Javits, 52, once angling for Communist support. (International)

Probe Witness

W. C. KNEIFEL of Minneapolis, northwestern regional manager of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, tells the special Senate lobbying investigation committee in Washington that executives at his level decided to have some of their salesmen get businessmen to send telegrams urging one senator to vote for the natural gas bill. Of the 900 telegrams sent, it was said, from 12 to 42 were dispatched without permission of those whose names were signed. (International) this represents a big jump in the right direction. But still—why is n't it 100 per cent?

Perhaps because we are fond of alibis. Or that we don't fully appreciate how important we are as individuals, holding the right to express our convictions at voting time. Going to be out of town? Going to have a headache? Going to get wet in the rain? Going to nullify your neighbor's opposite ballots so why not the both of us stay home? Or just not interested in politics?—"It's all fixed, sewed up, under cover, and a plain ordinary citizen's vote doesn't mean much?"

Perhaps a case could be made for any or all of these petty excuses. Perhaps the nation will struggle along without our vote. It has somehow kept going with less than half, now a little better than half, of its actual voting potential. No, the country doesn't really need our vote. If we have a previous engagement more important than that awaiting us in the neighborhood precinct or if voting is too much trouble—by all means, sit this one out.

But could it be that, more than our country needs us, we need to respond to the most valuable "right" we know? This is our chance to register what we believe. Ours is the opportunity for free expression almost incredible to the enslaved world and to some portions of the "free" world.

If we can't hitch a ride to the polls, they will send a car for us. If we can't leave the children, they will send a sitter. If we ache, they will feed us an aspirin. If it rains, they will hold an umbrella over our new hats. "They" are plain ordinary citizens like ourselves, except they care more than we do and are willing to make it easy for us to pull the levers of freedom. "They" have worked hard for what they believe, for whichever party more nearly coincides with their convictions. And for 12 hours on Tuesday, November 6, they will chauffeur, baby-sit, mind the store so we may be free to vote.

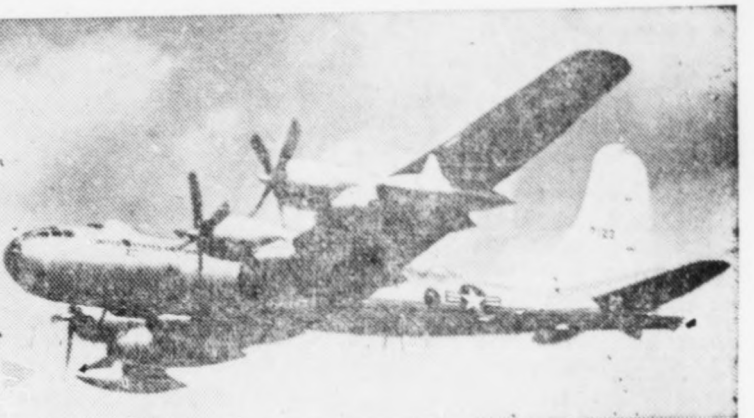

It was wrong to say the country, the candidates, don't need you and me. They do. But more than they need us, we need to keep that date—with ourselves.

Occasional Hocus-Pocus Pays
If Partner Can't Count

Since the orthodox fourth best lead from a long, broken suit often gives declarer as much help as it gives partner, it will occasionally—only occasionally—pay to lead some other card than fourth best.

The bidding:

One appropriate time to try this sort of hocus-pocus is when your current partner doesn't know how to "count" a hand—and declarer does. In other words, when sound, scientific leading will be lost on your partner, but carefully noted and utilized by declarer.

SIXTH BEST

In today's deal, for example, Mr. Dale figured that any lead he made would give Mr. Muzzy no information at all. On this theory he led the deuce of clubs—his sixth best.

Mr. Champion would have had a much better chance if he had refused the first trick, letting Mr. Muzzy win with the jack. Undoubtedly Mr. Muzzy would have led back his last club. ("I always return my partner's suit," he says proudly.) Now, in order to put the contract in jeopardy, Mr. Dale would have had to win the second trick with the ace of clubs and shift to a heart.

The way the play actually went, Mr. Champion didn't have any chance. He considered the situation like this: It appeared that a heart switch might beat him. From the opening lead of the deuce of clubs it also appeared that the opposing clubs were divided 4-4.

SET UP DIAMONDS

He could afford to lose a diamond and three clubs. Therefore why not win the first trick and set up diamonds while he still had the ace of hearts in his hand?

So he took the queen of clubs led the queen of diamonds and let it ride. Mr. Muzzy won with the king and returned a club, whereupon Mr. Dale calmly rattled off five tricks in that suit to put the hand down two.

"How can I win," snapped Mr. Champion, "against people who don't even know how to lead?" "Well, I'm willing to muddle along in ignorance," grinned Mr. Dale, "as long as my 'bad' leads turn out this well."

Only Five Saved In Ship Sinking

HARSTAD, Norway (UP)—Five survivors of the American liberty ship Pelagia who landed in this tiny Norwegian fishing village said today there was no hope for 33 other men aboard the sunken ship.

The search went on, but the survivors said their's was the only lifeboat to be put down when the 7,238-ton Pelagia, laden with 10,000 tons of iron ore, broke in two in a gale and sank off Norway's rocky coast.

The five men were identified as Lawrence Redless of Central City, Colo.; James Arnold of Baltimore; Demetrios Hadjicostas, a Greek-born American citizen of New York; Andreas Orphanos of New York; and Pedro Redriguez of Baltimore.

With them was the body of Jan Lopez of Santiago, Puerto Rico. He had died of exposure in the icy waters above the Arctic Circle before the British trawler Northern Duke could reach their leaking lifeboat, guided by a U. S. Air Force search plane.

Hadjicostas told United Press their's was the only lifeboat to make it to safety. Three others were splintered when part of the superstructure gave away and crashed to the deck under the pounding of mountainous waves.

Even the lifeboat developed a leak under the pounding of the seas, but they kept it afloat until a U. S. Air Force rescue plane spotted them and the British trawler plucked them from the sea. Lopez had succumbed in the icy water by then.

IT MAY be just a coincidence, but so many bank checks are being mailed about six weeks before the election. They call for an endorsement.

President Eisenhower's timing may be off in the fairways, but not when he gets over into the fields.

Adlai and Estes got a lot of encouragement on their strategy swing around the country. On the other hand, who's going to walk up to a presidential candidate and tell him he's sunk?

You'll see a lot of candidates for public office hovering around in the next few weeks, but don't get discouraged. Only half of them will get in.

The candidates get one break during a political campaign. They don't have to listen.

Politics is termed a profession but the speeches sometimes make it sound like a calling.

Both parties have something to say about education in their platforms, and well they might. Some people can't even write an "X."
